167 Coonoongibber Creek Road, Brooloo

IT'S NOT ALL ABOUT THE LAND!

There's a lot to think about when buying a rural property. However, the land is always high on everyone's list. So, if productive land is on your list, consider this ... a level 21-acre (8.68 ha) block, well fenced into grazing paddocks, with good water and long creek frontage. As a grazing block, it's hard to beat. See the photos & video!

The house is sited in a large house yard with a veggie garden, fruit trees and a view of the Brooloo Bluff. It's a high-set Queenslander, with useable space underneath. Externally, the walls are weatherboard upstairs and solid block on the ground floor. Internally, the common entry delivers you straight into a large kitchen with plenty of cupboard storage that includes a walk-in pantry. It has a freestanding electric stove and a block/island bench.

The timber floors in the kitchen extend to the air conditioned loungeroom, as does the Art Deco feel. There are 3 bedrooms, all generous in size, and one bathroom off the study nook. The veranda has a number of entry points, including French door access from the bedrooms. While the house needs a little work, it certainly has the style! Downstairs has parking for 3 vehicles plus workshop, storage and rumpus spaces.

Number 167 is on the sealed road section of Coonoongibber Creek Rd, midway between the Mary Valley villages of Imbil & Kenilworth, and half an hour from Gympie. You can have easy access the freeway in a number of ways (towards Gympie, through Kenilworth or via Moy Pocket Rd), on your way to anywhere.
